“I enjoy the lessons. The book and online videos are great for a novice.”-Greg M.

“I've only been trying to playing ukulele for about a month, can play most instruments by ear, mouth organ violin and piano but only the melodies, hopeless with chords and found the guitar most difficult with chords due to short fat digits. Bought a beginners book on the uke but found that hard to follow and most of the people on Youtube talk too much and too fast and don't talk you through the procedures. You on the other hand are easy to follow and with your lessons you can actually hear the chords sounding the same as the songs. Thank you very much and glad that you are ready to help us learners.”-Mick C.

Editorial Review About the Author

Jenny Peters is one part of the sister duo responsible for 21 Songs in 6 Days. She stumbled upon the ukulele after finding 45 of them in one of her elementary school classrooms. Convinced she could turn her find into more than a whole lot of noise, she designed a program to teach all of her students to play successfully with only 30 minutes of class time a week. No one was more grateful than the teacher in the next classroom. A former private piano teacher in Chicago with a Masters in Piano Performance from the University of Illinois, Jenny now lives in Highland Park. Married with three kids, she shares her home with three cats and more musical instruments than she would care to name. Rebecca Bogart is the second half of the sister writing team. An acclaimed classical pianist, performer and teacher, Rebecca has been passionate about the piano and music her entire life. She has played for audiences in Italy, taught master classes at Harvard and won more than a few piano competitions. She made her solo debut at Carnegie Hall in early 2014.
