Magic for Marigold By Lucy Maud Montgomery

This early work by Lucy Maud Montgomery was originally published in 1929 and we are now republishing it with a brand new introductory biography. 'Magic for Marigold' is a novel about a young girl named Marigold and her fairytale world. Lucy Maud Montgomery was born on 30th November 1874, New London, in the Canadian province of Prince Edward Island. Her mother, Clara Woolner (Macneil), died before Lucy reached the age of two and so she was raised by her maternal grandparents in a family of wealthy Scottish immigrants. In 1908 Montgomery produced her first full-length novel, titled 'Anne of Green Gables'. It was an instant success, and following it up with several sequels, Montgomery became a regular on the best-seller list and an international household name. Montgomery died in Toronto on 24th April 1942.

Editorial Review

From the Publisher

The eccentric Lesley family could not agree on what to name Lorraine's new baby girl even after four months. Lorraine secretly liked the name Marigold, but who would ever agree to such a fanciful name as that? When the baby falls ill and gentle Dr. M. Woodruff Richards saves her life, the family decides to name the child after the good doctor. But a girl named Woodruff? How fortunate that Dr. Richards's seldom-used first name turns out to be . . . Marigold! A child with such an unusual name is destined for adventure. It all begins the day Marigold meets a girl in a beautiful green dress who claims to be a real-life princess. . . .

About the Author

Lucy Maud Montgomery was born in Clifton, Prince Edward Island, in 1874. Educated at Prince Edward College, Charlottetown, and Dalhousie University, she embarked on a career in teaching. From 1898 until 1911 she took care of her maternal grandmother in Cavendish, Prince Edward Island, and during this time wrote many poems and stories for Canadian and American magazines.

Montgomery's first novel, Anne of Green Gables, met with immediate critical and popular acclaim, and its success, both national and international, led to seven sequels. More autobiographical than the books about Anne is the trilogy of novels about another Island orphan, Emily Starr.

In 1911 Montgomery married the Rev. Ewan Macdonald, a Presbyterian clergyman, and they lived in Ontario, where he was the pastor of parishes in Leaskdale and, later, in Norval. They retired to Toronto in 1936.

Lucy Maud Montgomery died in Toronto in 1942.

Oh come on your reading sixth sense already said so why you have to listening to a different sixth sense.

Janet Kline:

As a student exactly feel bored for you to reading. If their teacher requested them to go to the library as well as to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just little students that has reading's internal or real their hobby. They just do what the educator want, like asked to go to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading very seriously. Any students feel that reading through is not important, boring as well as can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is being complicated. Book is very important in your case. As we know that on this era, many ways to get whatever we really wish for. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Magic for Marigold can make you experience more interested to read.
